

The Future of the Anti-War and Peace Movements

Cindy Sheehan, whose son was killed during his military service in the Iraq War, attracted international attention in 2005 for her extended anti-war protest at a makeshift camp outside President George W. Bush's Texas ranch—drawing both passionate support and angry criticism. Read about her latest book, Myth America: 10 Greatest Myths of the Robber Class and the Case for Revolution at www.CindySheehansSoapbox.com

Cindy Sheehan events

(all free and open to the public)

Wed, July 8, 2-4pm

Mac Bac's Books, 1820 Coventry Road, Cleveland Heights

Wed, July 8, 7-9pm

Akron Main Public Library, 60 High St., Akron 44236; 330.258.0046

Thu, July 9, 4-6 pm

Community potluck in Lakewood. RSVP to maryjokrishna@yahoo.com. Bring a healthy dish and some love ...show community support for Cindy

Thu, July 9, 7-9pm

Main event at St Colman Church Hall, corner of W. 65th and Lawn Ave., one block north of Lorain Ave.; one block west of W.65th RTA Stop

Fri, July 10, 12-2pm

Celebrate Cindy's birthday with a picnic potluck at upper pavilion of Edgewater State Park. Bring your drums and positive vibrations for healing the Earth.

For more information, contact NOAC: Northeast Ohio Anti-War Coalition
216-736-4716 www.noacinfo.org NOACinfo@aol.com